OF SOME RICH NEW-YORKERS. PROVISION IN AN OLD DEED TO SUMMER HOME

LANDS AT EAST HAMPTON, LONG ISLAND-LIFE SAVERS ALLOWED FULL INGRESS

AND EGRESS WITH THEIR APPARATUS.

Several wealthy New-Yorkers owning handsome summer homes at East Hampton, L. I., have just awakened to the fact that the United States Government is practically the owner of the land they thought was theirs exclusively.

This revelation was made recently when F Stanhope Philips, of this city, in negotiating with the present holders for a building lot lying between East Hampton and Wainscott, upon which he in-tended to erect a $100,000 house, went to Myron 14. Oppenheim, of the law firm of Oppenheim & Severance, to have the title searched. Mr. Oppenheim discovered that some years ago a tract of land fronting upon the Atlantic Ocean, and including Mr. Phillips's proposed purchase, because to have been continue the injunction against the longed to one A. D. Can'ty. It seems to have been the original intention of Mr. Candy to give to the United States Government a portion of his estate for the erection and maintenance of a life-saving station, although when the lands belonging to the estate were transferred to Edward A. La Forrest and Thomas J. Smith, the present holders, neither of the purchasers knew of the restrictions which went with the possession of the land. Prior to this, 1875, the Government had accepted the gift of Mr. Candy and in the original deed is found the provise which is causing all the trouble. It says: Full right of egress and ingress is given thereto in ny direction over the other lands of the granter Full right of egress and ingress is given thereto in any direction over the other lands of the grantor by those in the employ of the United States, on foot, or vehicles of any kind, with boats or any articles used for the purpose y carrying out the intentions of Congress in providing for the establishment of life-saving stations, and the right to mass over any lands of the grantor in any manner in the prosecution of said purpose, and all the right to erect such structures upon the said land as the United States may see fit.

This deed gives the Government and its employes full right to pass over the premises of the costly summer places upon the old Candy estate.

ng those who hold valuable properties in the disputed territory are Howard Russell Butler, the artist; the Rev. Dr. R. Heber Newton, David J. Gardiner, Henry A. James and others equally

Mr. Phillips's lawyer, upon discovering this state of affairs, gave the grantors one year in which to secure from the Government a renunciation of the privileges originally granted to it, but the Govern-ment insists on maintaining its rights. Mr. Phillips, however, has recovered $2.500 of the purchase price divanced by him. It was secured on a judgment igainst the grantors, Mr. La Forrest and Mr.

sainst the grantors, Mr. La Forrest and Mr. mith.

Mr. James, one of the property holders, was seen this law office. No. 35 Wall-st., vesterday afterbon, and appeared greatly surprised and even mused at the reported rights of the Government or his property, and said that he had his deed on a farmer. Sineus Talmage by name, as had so Dr. R. Heber Newton. He feared no trouble, r. James said that his property, which adjoins at of Mr. Butler on the west, was a part of the dimage farm, which, he thought, had been in Talmage family for the last fifty years, but at Mr. Butler's and all the other properties to west, including Mr. Phillips's proposed purise, were deeded to their present holders by Latrest, Mr. James was sure that his title was reed.

prest. Mr. James was sure that his title was refect.
Among the memoranda secured by Mr. Oppenhelm apparently unmistakable evidence that both e Newton and James properties originally belonged to the old Candy tract. There is at present a life-saving station adjoining e property which Mr. Phillips had intended to rechuse, and the crews from the station in executing their regular drills are accustomed to pass or the lawns and roadways of the residents adhing, instead of confining themselves to the ach. Dr. Newton, according to Mr. James, has otested vigorously against this, without success. The properties involved are fully one and a half les to the eastward of East Hampton proper, and a few handsome summer homes situated there on e old Candy tract form a little group by themices.

MISSOURI'S ANTI-TRUST LAW.

AN APPEAL TO BE TAKEN IN THE CASE OF E. T. HATHAWAY.

The conviction at Waco, Tex., of E. T. Hathaway, an agent of the Waters-Pierce Oll Company, of St. Louis, for violating the anti-trust law of that State, was under the indictment found also against John D. Rockefeller, Henry M. Flagler and other officers of the Standard Oil Company. When the indictment was returned an unsuccessful effort was made to secure the arrest in New-York and the extradition of Messrs. Rockefeller and Flagler. S. C. Dodd, solicitor of the Standard Oil Company, said yesterday. "The conviction of Hathaway will be appealed from on the ground that the law covering the case is unconstitutional. The appeal will not be taken by the Standard Oil Company, but by the Waters-Pierce Company, in which the Standard is a minority stockholder." John D. Rockefeller, Henry M. Flagler and other

We shall go right on with the work, and when the memorial is finished, we will have it brought over here and placed, even if we have to put it on one of our own lots, where

LONG ISLAND TRACTION SOLD.

KINS FOR $5,500,000.

SALE-AN EFFORT TO BE MADE FOR THE

APPOINTMENT OF A RECEIVER

The foreclosure sale of the rights, franchises and property of the Long Island Traction Company, by order of the United States Circuit Court of the Eastern District of Virginia, attracted a number well-known railroad men and lawyers to the New-York Real Estate Salesrooms, No.111 Broadway, yes terday afternoon. Among them were ex-Lieutenant Governor William F. Sheehan, F. Kingsbury Cur-tis, H. J. Morse, receiver of the road; Judge White, of Virginia; Professor Collin, James C. Church, representing Michael J. Kennedy, one of the stock holders, and Edward Cornell. Henry Draper, of Adrian H. Muller & Sons, was the auctioneer.

F. Kingsbury Curtis read the conditions of sale, which stated that no bid would be received without the sum of $10,000 in cash or a receiver's certificate to the amount of $50,000, par value, being personally handed to the auctioneer.

When Mr. Draper asked for bids, Mr. Church said that, on behalf of Michael J. Kennedy, a stockholder of the company, he protested against th sale taking place, on the ground that the Circuit Court of Eastern Virginia had no jurisdiction in the matter, and had no right to order the sale, attention was paid to the protest, however, and th was proceeded with. Only one bid was of fered, $5,500,000, by John G. Jenkins, president of the First National Bank, Brooklyn, and he was declared the purchaser.

Mr. Jenkins handed in a certified check for $10,000 drawn on the Central Trust Company.

The capital stock of the road is now $20,000,000, but it is intended to reduce it to $20,000,000 by taking three of the old shares and giving two of the new shares. Mr. Jenkins, the purchaser, was a Judge Gaynor, of the Supreme Court, in Brooklyn, yesterday morning denied the application of Michael J. Kennedy, as a stockholder of the Long Island Traction Company, to make permanent the preliminary injunction obtained on Thursday, restraining the sale of the property of the company, under the order of sale of Judge Nathan Goff, of the United States Circuit Court in Virginia. This vacated the preliminary injunction, and nothing, therefore, barred the holding of the sale yesterday. Almet F. Jenks, who appeared for the peditioner, made the opening argument, briefly reviewing the troubles which led up to the Higation.

J. S. Auerbach, of Davies, Stone & Auerbach, counsel for the receiver, said the proceedings brought by Kennedy and others were part of a policy of obstruction to prevent the reorganization of the company.

of the company.

Roger Foster, who followed for the plaintiff, spoke on the question of jurisdiction on the part of Judge Goff, whom he accused of a most cut-rageous stretch of power.

Judge Gaynor then delivered his opinion, denying the motion to continue the injunction. He said ing the motion to continue the injunction. He said in part:

"While I do intimate that the honorable Court which made this order of sale has higher powers than the Court now sitting. I have had grave doubts as to its jurisdiction in this matter, except for one thing, which must be decisive in this application. Both corporations who were made parties defendant in the action in the Virginia court, submitted through their directors, to its jurisdition by appearing there."

Late yesterday afternoon James C. Church and Mr. Jenks appeared in the Supreme Court and asked Judge Gaynor whether he would entertain an application for a receiver in a new said against the Traction Company and the Vrooklyn Heights Company. Judge Gaynor said it was his duty to entertain any application made in the regular way.

The lawyers then withdrew, and the preparation of papers in a new suit was begun at once. Mr. Church said he was going to apply to Judge Gaynor for an order to show cause why a receiver of the Traction property should not be appointed in this State, the suit to be brought by a stockholder. Judge Gaynor said last night that no such application was made yesterday afternoon.

TO ELECT OFFICERS TO-DAY.

SOCIALISTS IN THE FEDERATION.

One of the most important sessions of the convention of the American Federation of Labor will be held to-day, when the election of officers will take place. Owing to the fact that there is some talk of placing in nomination for the various officers delegates who are believers in and supporters of Socialistic ideas and movements, the election will probably be lively and interesting. The convention passed resolutions favoring the sanitary regulation of bakeshops, and decided that a general movement in favor of the eight-hour work day would be unwise, but that the Executive Committee should select one or more of the best filled trades to begin the context for an eight-hour work day. They laid upon the table a report that contracts between the employer and the employe should be observed to the letter, no matter what the consequences. This involved the question of expediency of sympathetic strikes.

The proposition that the Federation send delegates to the International Socialist Congress, to be held in London in August next, caused much discussion. The delegates were abelating upon the question when the convention adjourned.

Several caucuses were held in the Ashland House and other headquarters of the delegates last Thursday night. These were in the interest of the various candidates for the presidency.

On entering the dining hall every member was compelled to waik under a step-ladder, and as he sat down and lifted his napkin from the table he upset his salt-cellar.

The menu was an elaborate affair, one of its most striking features being "Potatoes and Point High herring." This was a popular dish in Ireland during the famine, when for a time little else than potatoes could be had, it consisted of one herring hung from the celling, and when the potatoes were brought in a diner would peel off its jacket, dip the potato in sait, point it at the herring and devour it.
